

foreverbeech™

NATURAL

Exceptional looks, unquestionable durability and affordability - the complete solution.

Foreverbeech™ Natural contains evidence of natural earth based colouration from the land area in which the timber is grown. Earth tones combine with natural red appearance to provide the ideal decorative surface for natural oils and stains. Foreverbeech™ Natural fits perfectly with lower price expectations or when unification of the decorative appearance is desired.

Product specification

Foreverbeech™ Natural is made up of four main decorative appearances and two species, New Zealand Red and Silver Beech. Natural is priced to reflect a degree of natural colour variation exists within the decorative appearance. For this reason the product is normally positioned within a finished product range where colour is unified by wood dye within lacquer or oil based stain. This finish is increasing in popularity as high feature within hard wood increases the price point. Natural has lower levels of durability when specified for use within interior flooring.

For more information visit us at:

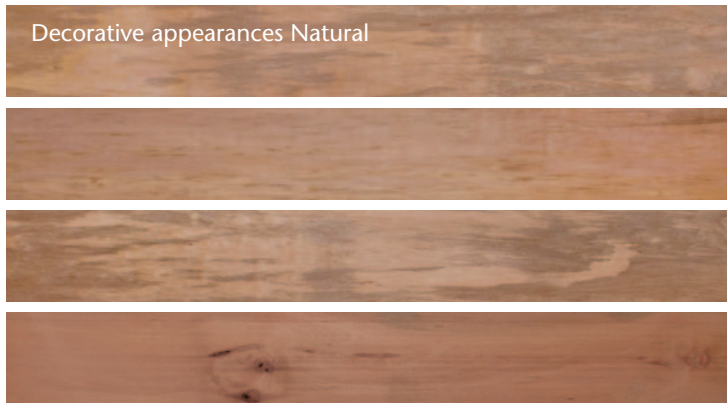

www.foreverbeech.co.nz

New Zealand Sustainable Forest Products
10 Gannons Road, RD1, Reefton 7895, New Zealand
Phone: (0064) 03 732 8414 Fax: (0064) 03 732 8415
Email: sales@nzsfpc.co.nz foreverbeech applications include:

- Interior joinery
- Furniture
- Marine interiors
- Structural quality engineered flooring systems
- Laminated panel
- Laminated beams
- Veneer

Decorative appearances Natural

foreverbeech advanced specifications :

- MAF certified forest management
- Chemical free
- High wear and impact resistance
- High stability
- Non allergenic
- Zero CARB emissions
- Structural performance
- Compatible with all conversion and surface finishing technologies
- Cutting edge kiln drying and conversion technology
- Experienced hub model conversion and supply partners
- Stable and affordable price points
- Attractive decorative appearance in clear or stained finishes